D. Monitoring:

In general, for all monitoring activities, respond to the following:

Monitoring is based on Critical Incident Reports (CIR) notifying VOPA of critical incidents and deaths in DMHMRSAS training centers. As incidents are reported, they are entered into a database and an examination into possible trends is ongoing. Individual preliminary inquiries are opened when there is a suspicion of abuse and neglect. Based on information gathered during the preliminary inquiry stage, a determination is made on whether appropriate remedial action was taken by the facility or whether further investigation or advocacy is warranted. If the latter, a full investigation or case may be opened.

These included reporting gaps (where reports weren't received), inconsistent reporting by certain facilities; and extensive input on proposed changes to the 15 day reporting format designed to ensure that VOPA was receiving all statutorily required information.

  2. Successfully guided through critical legislation to remove VOPA from executive branch and create an independent state agency P&A.
- 3. Served on steering committee for UCE Project of National Significance developing curriculum for health care practitioners/providers to enable recognition of abuse/neglect and have strategies to - address.

  4. Serve on State Special Education Advisory Council and will be serving on subcommittee to develop recommendations to Board of Education on promulgation of regulations on use of seclusion and restraint in public schools (none exist now).
- 5. Participation by Managing Atty on Olmstead Task Force.
- 6. Regulatory advocacy through participation on the DSS Assisted Living Facility (ALF) Advisory Committee.

2) Which groups are likely to be affected? (maximum 1,000 characters):

- 1. Persons with DD in need of a guardian or authorized representative.
- 2. All persons with disabilities who are or may be eligible for P&A services.
- 3. Persons with disabilities at risk of or experience abuse and/or neglect.
- 4. Students with disabilities being served in the public schools.
- 5. Persons with disabilities who are institutionalized or at risk of institutionalization.
- 6. Persons who reside in assisted living facilities.

3) What have been the major outcomes during the fiscal year? (maximum 1,000 characters):

1 of 3 1/14/2003 11:12 AM

1. DD Managing Atty emphasized guardianship needs of persons with disabilities. Board evaluated prog and voted to support continued funding for public guardianship in light of proposed budget cuts.
2. Legislation passed; VOPA became indep. state agency-July 16. Potential exec. branch or AG's office interference no longer an issue.
3. Nat'l curr. for health care providers being developed. Changes made as a result of P&A/other input.
4. Subcomm. formed. No outcomes yet. P&A has provided info on other states work with S&R regs relating to school use.
5. Managing attorney on Steering Committee and issues teams. Team facilitated by VOPA agreed upon a
def. of "qualified provider" that can be used across all progs/agencies to ensure that there are sufficient providers and maximum choice. This must be presented to Task Force for consideration.
6. Prevented efforts to diminish due process protections for persons with severe cognitive impairments.

4) How do these outcomes contribute to the long-term objectives as stated in the Statement of Objectives and Priorities? (maximum 1,000 characters):

1. Related to Priorities 1, 2, and 4.

2. Related to all priorities and will assist P&A in independently accomplishing its work.

3. Relates to Priorities 1, 2, and 3.

4. Relates to Priority 2 and 6.

5. Relates to Priority 4.

6. Relates to Priority 2 and 4.

5) Number of people with disabilities impacted? (maximum 1,000 characters):

2 of 3 1/14/2003 11:12 AM

Exact numbers are not feasible and would be unverifiable. Work under #1 would potentially affect all persons with disabilities, including DD who need a guardian. Work on #2 affects all persons with disabilities who are or could be eligible for P&A services. Work on #3 could potentially affect all persons with disabilities who are or could be subject to abuse and neglect. Work on #4, if accomplished, would affect all students with disabilities who could be subjected to seclusion or restraint with a clear focus on students with behavioral challenges. Work on #5 would affect all persons with disabilities who are institutionalized but ready for discharge either now or in the future and all persons now or in the future at risk of institutionalization.

Ten investigations of abuse/neglect and three death investigations were conducted in DMHMRSAS Training Centers and one in a state hospital. Example: Investigation concluded of burning of three residents of TC. Evidence to suggest abuse by two staff who have been terminated. As a result of VOPA investigation, additional rounds protocol in place to ensure better oversight of staff and increased resident safety. Exploring possibility of multi-state background checks instead of Virginia only. Reports on these three related incidents are in progress.

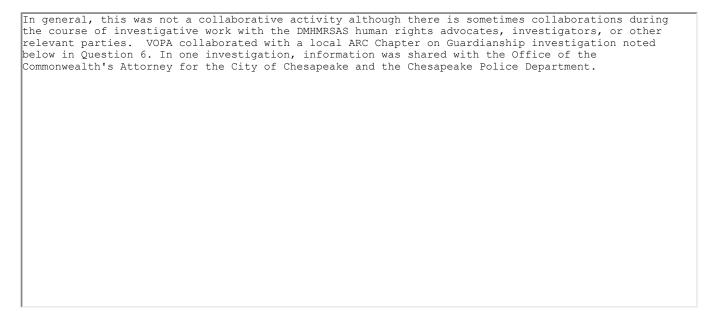

Example: Investigation completed on death of TC resident, examining issues of quality and timeliness of medical care, immunization protocols, and recordkeeping. Following conclusion of investigation in which there was a finding of neglect, VOPA provided support to family's private counsel for a wrongful death suit. Immunization protocols at the facility were changed, affecting all TC residents.

Investigation completed on two residents of TC who were shot by a pellet gun by an employee of the TC.
Claim of sexual abuse and bruising of 1 victim also investigated. Finding of abuse and two employees terminated. Staff attorney found that background checks not properly performed and that internal investigator also served as risk manager, a conflict of interest. Also found that one of the residents did not have an AR which brought forward the issue for further systemic review by VOPA. As a result of investigation, internal investigators at the TC no longer serve as Risk managers. DMHMRSAS policy regarding background checks has also changed. These checks now performed by human resources personnel who are at a central location as opposed to TC personnel. An investigation report is in progress and will be published in FY 03.

Cases referred to licensure and enforcement agencies as appropriate. Example: VOPA referred a case involving the death of a former resident of a group home to DMHMRSAS (as the licensure agency) for investigation. DMHMRSAS did not find abuse or neglect. VOPA then conducted independent investigation as a result of continuing family concern. It was determined that the individual died from aspiration of food. Preliminary results show that while group home not responsible for death, there were legitimate concerns from staff and family about his care/treatment at the home. Family requested a public investigation report not be filed. VOPA has agreed but continues to summarize findings for the facility and file. Example: VOPA forwarded information to AG's office regarding possible criminal neglect and Medicaid fraud as a result of an investigation. The AG's office has not filed charges or prosecuted but the case remains open to them and VOPA has provided additional information.

Ten investigations of abuse/neglect were conducted. Example: Investigation concluded of a fall that occurred at a camp providing an after school program. The child has CP, uses a wheelchair and fell down 3 flights of steps. The aide reponsible for the child and one other person failed to see the child wheel himself to a doorway approximately 10 feet away from the table he was at while eating. The child opened the unlocked door and fell down the steps suffering a frontal lobe concussion. Although no staffing requirements were violated, VOPA found that the staff person neglected the child by failing to pay attention as the child went past her to get to the door. VOPA has requested that the facility adopt additional oversight measures to ensure that there are sufficient staff present when an aide is attending to the personal care needs of one person and that it ensure that access areas are secure to prevent future problems.

During the first quarter of FY 02, VOPA obtained a list of recent violations from the licensing division at DMHMRSAS. Based on a review of this list, DD staff were assigned providers with whom to conduct outreach, provide materials, and if appropriate, conduct training. Contact with assigned providers was completed. Attorneys made scheduled and unscheduled visits, talking with staff, the director of the facilities and with residents. With non-verbal residents, VOPA's pictorial "Rights" poster was used as were observations of the residents, their living areas, demeanor, etc. VOPA found that licensing violations had already been corrected by the time of the agency's visits. Therefore VOPA is revamping its outreach strategies for FY 03, focusing on mass mailing of VOPA materials to DMHMRSAS licensed providers who are required under human rights regulations to post and disseminate our information, conducting random, on-site inspections and promoting greater interaction with APS and CPS.

VOPA received and reviewed a total of 403 Critical Incident Reports (CIRs) from DMHMRSAS Training Centers during FY 02. Ongoing analysis of data was conducted; a potential systemic problem was identified at a training center regarding the bathroom facilities. An analysis of the data on bathroom facility and shower room injuries at all training centers was conducted and the data of the training center in question was compared to the overall data. The finding was that the data were comparable and a systemic problem did not exist. This information was forwarded to the facility director. The data did not reveal any other systemic issues during this fiscal year. In the previous fiscal year, an extensive joint audit (with the Independent Inspector General -OIG) of a training center was conducted on the basis of CIR data. This year, the VOPA Acting Director accompanied the OIG to view, first hand, environmental modifications made to the facility as a follow up to the audit.

A review of statistical data maintained by VOPA was conducted, comparing the period July 2000 -November 2000 (prior to the TC joint audit) to the period July 01 - November 01 (after the site visit and issuance of the audit report). The data showed a 43.6 percent reduction in critical incidents overall at the facility and a 38.9 percent reduction in falls. Ongoing collaboration with the OIG remains another positive outcome. In addition, a number of CIR reporting problems were identified and resolved this fiscal year, hence improving VOPA's ability to conduct accurate analyses. For example, VOPA found that parents/authorized representatives (ARs) were not always being notified of injuries being reported to VOPA, yet the 15 day report form noted that there was "no AR concern or complaint." DMHMRSAS has since instituted a policy that the parent/AR must be notified of any incident reportable to VOPA.

This priority addresses systemic advocacy to the extent that VOPA conducts trend analyses in order to identify and rectify specific systemic issues. No such issues were identified through data analysis through this year so the focus remained on addressing individual injuries and the circumstances leading to those injuries.

VOPA received and reviewed 403 critical incident (CIR) reports in training centers duing FY 02. Staff conducted preliminary inquiries on 34 incidents. Six were converted to investigation status. Twenty six were closed with no further action warranted. Two remained open at the end of the fiscal year. Example: A CIR report indicated that an individual at a TC had two abrasions showing signs of infection. A preliminary inquiry was initiated. Based on records review, interviews, observations, and review of the internal investigation report, VOPA concurred that there was no evidence of abuse or neglect regarding the wound and the inquiry was closed without further action. Example: A preliminary inquiry was opened following receipt of a CIR on the death of a 48 year old woman at a TC. Records indicate the woman died from a particular medical condition but information obtained, including information from the autopsy raised sufficient suspicion that an investigation has been opened.

3. List other outcomes realized (if applicable) (maximum 1000 characters):

1 of 4 1/14/2003 11:52 AM

Outcomes regarding CIRs that were converted to investigations are reported in Section C-IV, Full Investigations. Outcomes related to the systemic effects of the CIR process were reported under Indicator 1. The overall positive outcome of this very important system is that VOPA is notified of every death and every injury in which medical attention is required. We receive reasonably complete information which enables us to make reasonable judgements regarding where to utilize our resources in the investigative process. With only 3-1/2 staff attorneys in the DD program, this system means that resources can be devoted to investigations, legal representation, and outreach to consumers and families rather than to trying to figure out where and when abuse or neglect could be occurring within the state system.

In all instances in which a preliminary inquiry was conducted as a follow up to a CIR report, staff were directed to obtain copies of internal investigation reports to which we have access (i.e, abuse/neglect investigation reports). This was routinely done and in the context of the completion of the preliminary inquiry it was noted whether the report was adequate or not. If the report was not adequate, follow-up action was taken. Example. A VOPA staff attorney reviewed a report related to an incident. The report appeared to adequately identify the persons responsible for the inadequate care given to a patient and appropriate remedial measures were recommended by the internal investigator. The CIR was recommended for opening so that the staff attorney could monitor implementation of the internal investigator's recommendations and provide any additional advocacy needed to ensure the resident's safety.

A VOPA staff attorney was assigned a critical incident at a TC involving a MR resident who had suffered a scrotal tear and a right thumb fracture. VOPA followed up with the A/R and obtained the report from the internal Program Compliance Manager. The report contained several inconsistencies and provoked a series of questions. VOPA pointed out that the name of the A/R was incorrect in the report; the report did not include follow-up information about the thumb injury or what specific measures were going to be made permanently to avoid another scrotal tear. The report stated in one part that the resident did not engage in self-abusive behavior and the opposite in another. Changes to the report were made, and the program compliance manager stated that the temporary changes made to address the resident's safety would remain in place.

It proved difficult to open case level advocacy for persons with DD in training centers because individuals in training centers typically do not self-identify. Many are non-verbal and are not able to or in a position of requesting services from VOPA. It is for this reason that VOPA initiated the investigation reported earlier regarding the lack of guardians and ARs for persons in training centers who are clinically ready for discharge. It is anticipated that this will ultimately lead to more case services. Example: A DD attorney assisted a TC resident with MR obtain a discharge plan where one did not previously exist. She attended meetings on his behalf. The resident had had some incidences of violence and the treatment team felt that he was not ready for discharge. However, the VOPA attorney assisted the TC to develop a plan so that the resident can be discharged when his behavioral challenges decrease.

The DD program initially worked on a joint investigation with VOPA's PAIMI program of four community services boards (CSBs) regarding the expediency and efficacy with which they ensured discharge from state facilities to community based placements. This strategy, which included litigation against 2 CSBs, was successful on the mental health side but less successful on the DD side in part because of the absence of information on ARs that VOPA would need to consult regarding discharge. The DD program then received information concerning discharge practices that resulted in a shift of investigative direction while maintaining the general focus of the objective. As noted in Priority 1, Indicator 1, VOPA has initiated an investigation in response to allegations that a number of TC residents who have been declared ready for discharge by their treatment team have no AR or guardian, potentially preventing meaningful advocacy for appropriate discharge planning by the CSB and by DMHMRSAS.

Complaint presented to VDOE on behalf of the class of students with moderate MR not placed in the LRE by Fairfax County Public Schools. Following VDOE ruling against the individual complainants and the class, VOPA instituted due process against VDOE addressing VDOE's failure to adequately investigate the complaints filed pursuant to federally mandated complaints procedures. Due Process hearing held in August 2002 after numerous delays including a several month delay in VDOE appointing a hearing officer to handle the due process. Despite several earlier rulings to the contrary, the hearing officer ruled that he did not have jurisdiction to rule on this matter and did not rule on the merits of the case. VOPA is conferring with its clients to determine if they wish to pursue further action through the federal courts.

For each priority, provide the following information:

- 1. Priority number (from the past fiscal year SGP): 6
- 2. Identify and describe indicators PADD used to determine successful outcome of activities pursued under this priority:

Advocacy/legal representation services were provided to those who met established criteria. Example:

VOPA represented a deaf male in a transition case. Through VOPA's efforts the client was able to obtain a tutor to work with him on autobody literacy skills. He also obtained driving lessons and the promise of a job coach from DRS after he obtains his license. Example: VOPA successfully obtained occupational therapy for a 5 year old with developmental disabilities. Example: VOPA represented a student with developmental disabilities whose parents had unsuccessfully attempted to obtain an independent educational evaluation (IEE) for a year. The school division continued to deny the request based on its assertion that an IEE was not needed and that the student was making progress despite the fact that the student had poor oral and written language skills and was approaching age 21. The VOPA staff attorney successfully convinced the school division to grant the request for the IEE.

In one TA case, VOPA represented a 7 year old with autism who was inappropriately restrained in an unsafe fashion by the Special Education Director. Child Protective Services was assigned to the case. The caseworker was not knowledgeable about restraints. The VOPA staff attorney educated the caseworker on the use of restraints and had a number of conversations with her. Throught the efforts of the newly knowledgeable CPS caseworker, the Special Education Director was found guilty of neglect. On appeal he was again found guilty of neglect.

expertise in computers. Despite numerous interest inventories and surveys indicating this preference, the school repeatedly placed the student in manual labor activities. The parent found an appropriate internship but the school refused to provide transportation which meant that the student could not participate. With VOPA intervention, the request for transportation was granted and the student is successfully participating in the computer internship.

Fact sheets were distributed throughout the year to families and professionals through a variety of arenas. Information on how much information was distributed is included in Section V, Non-Case Directed Services. This year, all agency fact sheets were reviewed and revised to account for substantive changes in laws and regulations and to address the change in the P&A system from DRVD to VOPA. Publications are now routinely available in alternate format, upon request, and are posted on our website in PDF and text format. A new VOPA poster was developed which is used in conjunction with the pictorial rights poster developed under the DD program. Mass mailings of publications were sent to numerous agencies, advocacy and other organizations following the transition from DRVD to VOPA.

WOPA posters are on display in all training centers (in cottages, in living areas, by telephones).

VOPA worked with DMHMRSAS to ensure that the old DRVD posters were replaced with the new DD posters following the July 16, 2002 redesignation date. This effort was successful and DMHMRSAS was extremely cooperative with many posting requirements, including redesignation notices, final notices, and the posters. Staff routinely check the placement of posters and availability of brochures whenever they visit the facility for outreach or client work. No training requests were received from residents or families of training center residents this year.

A VOPA Managing Attorney is on the Steering Committee for the Task Force and several Issues teams. He and the UCE Director have met to determine how two of the Issues teams can better collaborate. In addition, the DD Council have staff participating on the Task Force. VOPA included a DD Council staff person in a meeting with another group that is surveying the needs of MH consumers relative to Olmstead to explore potential collaboration and offered suggestions to the DD Council on a needs assessment survey they may conduct. The UCE Director, the DD Council Director and the VOPA Acting Director had a series of meetings focusing on potential collaborative activity. One avenue discussed was to embark upon a project similar to one conducted by the PA DD Council regarding satisfaction with community-based services by people with DD. That discussion was put on hold with the resignation of the DD Council Director and the impending hiring of a new P&A Director.

Please describe the projects funded with non-part C funding or its program income (maximum 1,000 characters):

VOPA received approximately $211,000 in state general funds. These funds are available to support advocacy/legal assistance to persons with DD whose issues did not fall under our program priorities. There were, however, sufficient funds this year to support program activities, including provision of short-term assistance and technical assistance to persons whose issues fell outside DD program priorities. Therefore the use of state funds for this purpose was not needed. However, the DD program has not had a priority for ADA accessibility. These issues have typically been handled under our PAIR program which commbined with our state VDA program. This year day care access for children with disabilities was a priority under the PAIR program. Because persons with DD are not eligible to be served under PAIR, any cases regarding day care and/or other accessibility issues which would normally be handled by PAIR but for whom the client was DD were paid for out of VDA state funds.

Section IX. Comments and Clarifications:

COMMENT/CLARIFICATIONS:(Limit the number of Character 2000)

- 1. VOPA does not currently have the capacity to track expenditures by Priority. Figures provided in the SOP are strictly estimates of time spent or projected to be spent. Therefore, we have put a "0" in the category for amount spent although this is clearly inaccurate. VOPA is at the time this report is being prepared, piloting a new time-keeping system that will enable us to budget and track expenditures by priority. Although we will not have a full year's information next year, we hope that we will be able to extrapolate from the data that will be collected.
- 2. Section IV-A6, Intervention on Behalf of Groups. The potential number of persons impacted (total) is duplicative since the persons impacted under (A1) and A(2) include some of the same persons included under A(3) monitoring activities.
- 3. However, we were informed by ADD last year, to report in this manner, even though it is duplicative.

Section IV-A(2) Full investigations. In the one investigation noted as "case concluded unsuccesfully", the parent withdrew consent for VOPA to investigate. In three of the eight investigations noted to be concluded successfully, there was a lack of merit to the allegation of abuse/neglect. However, the investigation itself was concluded and guidance provided to the facility and the client/guardian. Under case resolution, however, these are reported as "lack of merit". It is unclear as to how this information is to be reported so we chose to take the requirement literally with respect to the fact that the case was successfully concluded because the investigation was complete and findings were provided to the client and/or facility as appropriate. If this is an incorrect interpretation, we will revise the report.
